THE PARABLE OF THE BULL

A certain immigrant brought a fine young bull to this new country. It was a fine, strong bull with potent possibilities.

But he needed careful handling like any good bull!

The immigrant loaned the bull to a neighbor who turned him in a barb wire pasture near his house. It was the spring of the year an dthe neighbor's wife was housecleaning. She left the furniture on the lawn that night for weren't they going on with the cleaning the next day?

It was the spring of the year and the young bulls fancy turned that night—to the destruction of a lot of furniture.

To make the story short, they shot the bull. A well-bred bull!

All westerners are optimists or at least so they say. The immigrant was no pessimist or he wouldn't have had any faith in a good bull at all. But an optimist is just a big fool or he wouldn't leave his furniture for a bull to play with.

An intelligent man is a realist who takes hold of the horns of his dilemma. He puts a ring in the bulls nose so to speak.

We have a bull on the rampage in our yard and in our neighbors yard. It is our uncontrolled water and alkali problem. If you don't believe it take a ride through the areas west and east of town one of these dry spring days and take note of the accumulating areas of alkali.

The bull is destroying your furniture. Get him under control!

Two one-act plays were given here Thursday night by the High School. They were well acted and enjoyed by the large audience. Mr. Loren Nelson was director. Jean Mehew, manager, Kim Bullock, sound effects. The members of the cast off the first play were Anita Bullock, Mildred Wilde, Mary Rose Selby, Carma Paxman, Milton Taylor, Jay Attwood, Lowell Wilde. For the second play the players were Mildred Selby, Nola Attwood, Katie Paxman, Kazuko Taguchi, Segie Tadakora, Mark Chipman, Jim Gibb and Arvin Wilde.
